Communication Among Leadership

Ossie Mills

Leadership is not an entitled position and cannot be assigned. Leadership is simply earned over time and, depending upon the field of endeavor, can be public or private. E21: EMPOWERED WORSHIP IN THE 21ST CENTURY

The Songs God Loves

Craig Dunnagan
Vice President of Music Publishing and Worship Resources at Integrity Music

In this session, we'll explore Biblical models of worship planning. As worship leaders one of our primary responsibilities is to create, craft and curate the song lists for corporate worship. However, we so often just plan to sing what we like or what is popular. Scripture and the New Testament specifically give us patterns for planning and selecting our songs and the flow of worship regardless of the style or liturgy of our individual church. We'll look into these models and discuss how they apply to our lives as ministers and how it can inspire Psalmists among us.

FranklinThe Miraculous Gospel of Jesus with Signs FollowingChristopher Alam
Co-founders of Dynamis World Ministries, Lancaster, PA

The Full Gospel of Jesus Christ must be preached under the Power of the Holy Ghost, and it touches man through Salvation, Healing and Deliverance. This is the pattern that we see in the Book of Acts. The Gospel must be preached with Signs Following even in our day because although the world may have changed, the Lord Jesus, His Word, and the Holy Ghost have not changed. Young people these days are tired of the status quo and they hunger for a return to True Christianity and Pentecost as in the Book of Acts!

Communicating Christian Thought through Media

Norm Mintle

Assistant Professor, Regent University, Virginia Beach, VA

When the Church opted out of contemporary culture during the mid-20th century, we lost our voice and – in fact, our legitimacy - to engage in significant cultural conversations. Today, Christians are working feverishly to maintain an "alternate universe:" a Christian version of media rather than re-establishing our legitimate "seat at the table." This session will challenge us to consider how Christians may truly engage a postmodern culture with what Francis Schaeffer called, "capital T truth" using the power of creativity and communication.

At the same time, God is raising up a generation who is passionate to see social justice causes ended on the Earth. This next move of God will see a radical generation of young people who have been set apart for God advancing with the favor of God into every area of the entertainment and social justice fields and it is our job as leaders to begin to create the containers they will need to succeed.
